

SAY JAPANESE NOT CONVINCED THEY LOST WAR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Is it possible that we shall have to fight the Japanese war over again a few years hence?

Outspoken Vice Admiral John S. McCain, whose famous U. S. Naval task force 38 played such a notable part in the victory over Nippon, declares that neither the Japanese war lords nor the rank and file consider themselves defeated. Then he gives this grim verdict:

"The Japanese generals are not half licked yet. They're going to take a lot of killing at some future time."

That would indeed be a gloomy outlook if we didn't feel justified in assuming that the admiral is in part speaking figuratively. He means, I take it, that the militarists aren't licked mentally—that they haven't had their ideas of conquest knocked out of them—and there's plenty of evidence to support that claim. However there can be no doubt that Japan is beaten to a frazzle physically.

Gloomy Address
Premier Hatake-Kuni made that clear in his gloomy address before the Diet in Tokyo yesterday. He said that enormous military losses, impoverishment and exhaustion at home had forced surrender. And it should be noted that this position of defeat was reached before the advent of the atomic bomb. Of course the Premier probably is glad to emphasize this with the idea that it may soften Allied treatment of his country, but the fact remains that he is speaking the truth and that Japan is shattered physically—militarily, economically, industrially.

This definitely means that we don't have to fight the Japs in the near future. It means, too, that if we capitalize the situation which now exists, we won't have to fight them in the distant future, either.

Must Be Prepared
In order to insure continuance of peace there are several conditions to be fulfilled. One of them obviously is that America and the other major powers must maintain a state of full military preparedness, ready for action at any moment. We can't afford any more Pearl Harbors. Then of course Japan must be re-educated into peaceful ways of thinking—which means democracy. In conjunction with this, those generals who "are not half licked yet" must be removed from contact with society in one way or another. Militarism must be destroyed in Nippon.

So it isn't enough to emasculate Nippon militarily. The western nations must promote democracy throughout the Far East and remove the distrust which exists now. Otherwise the Jap militarists, even though disarmed, might create a bloc which could furnish striking power for war.

Boy Escapes From Camp Hill School

State and borough police here were asked to be on the lookout for a 16-year-old Baltimore boy who escaped about 5:30 p. m. from the industrial school at Camp Hill. A car was reported stolen in that section a short time later.

The missing youth's name is Stephen Grego and he is described as being five feet six inches tall, weighing 125 pounds with small features and a "baby face." He was wearing blue denim shirt and trousers when he escaped.

SUBS AT LARGE

Canberra Sept. 6 (AP)—"A number" of Japanese submarines still are at large in the Pacific, Australian Navy Minister Norman John Oswald Makin told Parliamentary representatives today; hence "it is essential we do not disclose times of ship arrivals."

There are about 9,710,850 radios in Great Britain, or one for every five persons.

SEEK TO RESCUE JAP PRISONERS

Chungking, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Mukden-Dairen railway in Manchuria now is in operation and two destroyers and a hospital ship are enroute to Dairen to evacuate prisoners of war and internees being brought from Mukden, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said today.

British hospital ships also are arriving at Hong Kong, where 10 American prisoners of war and 16 American merchant seamen have been found in Japanese camps.

(Moscow dispatches said Soviet railway experts had restored traffic across Manchuria on the Chinese eastern railway also, although the track was found badly neglected and damaged by washouts and other causes.)

"Illegal Strike" Hits Fuel Company

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6 (AP)—A strike of CIO employees of the United Fuel Gas company—the third in five months—began at 12:01 a. m. today and union spokesmen said it was 88 per cent effective.

John R. Hardwick, president of the Kenova local of the Oil Workers International union, estimated that 1,300 men were out and that supplies would be shut off to the entire six-state area served by United Fuel and its affiliated companies.

Hardwick said the strike was called because of the "inactivity or paralysis" of the War Labor Board in acting on the workers' demand for a basic wage raise of 10 cents an hour for all employees.

The company issued a statement at its Charleston offices describing the strike as "wholly unauthorized and without notice of any kind to the company."

United Fuel serves domestic and industrial consumers of natural gas in Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

The other mine closed was Vesta 5 of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corp., a big operation employing 1,043 men. They were involved in a dispute over a tippie man, the Solid Fuels Administration officer reported. However, the Midland mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company, idle yesterday, was working again. It employs 474.

Johnson, who refused to make public the names of signers of the petition which he transmitted to the War Department, said he had passed on their petition only after War Department officials assured him the men's cases would not be prejudiced.

Johnson said each of the petitioners were either the Purple Heart or medals for bravery in combat and that they objected to being kept in the service with nothing to do but police the grounds at Fort Dix.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Wilkins loses the wanderlust

Jeb Wilkins was always a great one for traveling. Two weeks a year he used to cover more ground than a Pullman conductor. Used to come back from vacations tuckered out.

But the war has changed all that. Gasoline shortages — and saving space on trains for service men — has got Jeb spending his vacations home ... and liking it!

"Never knew staying home could be such fun," says Jeb. "Outdoor barbecues ... sitting around and chatting with the kids and family ... basking in the sunshine with a glass of cold beer ... that's living," Jeb says.

From where I sit, Jeb's discovered what millions of other Americans have learned through the war. Whether your choice is beer or buttermilk ... horse shoes or checkers ... a quiet book or a bit of friendly conversation ... there's no place like home ... where we grumble the most and get treated the best!

CONDEMNED AT FARCE TRIAL; GET REPRIEVE

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Three of the fliers who took part in Lt. Gen. James Doolittle's bombing of Tokyo, in April, 1942, have added another chapter to the story of Japanese brutality to Allied prisoners.

The three—weak, thin and dazed by 40 months of imprisonment—came back from the horrors of a Japanese prison camp to tell of their experiences at a War Department news conference yesterday.

They are Capt. Robert L. Hite, of Earth, Tex., Capt. Chase J. Nielsen, of Hyrum, Utah, and Sgt. Jacob D. Deshazer, of Salem, Ore.

Hite told how he was clubbed and slapped by Japanese interrogators during two months of confinement in Tokyo shortly after his capture.

Nielsen and Deshazer said their experiences were the same and all related that the Japanese frequently threatened to chop off their heads.

All three were condemned to death after a farce trial at which they were allowed only to tell their life histories up to the time they entered the air forces. Their sentences later were reduced to life imprisonment by the Japanese said, the "graciousness" of the Emperor.

Lt. George Barr, of Queens, N. Y., 1st Lt. Robert J. Meder, of Lakewood, O., also were sentenced to death and spared. Meder died in December, 1943, in a prison camp at Nanking.

The fate of three others who were sentenced to die at the same time is unknown. They are 1st Lt. William G. Farrow, of Washington, D. C., 1st Lt. Dean E. Hallmark, of Dallas, Texas, and Sgt. Harold A. Apatz of Lebo, Kas.

ASK PROBE OF DEFUNCT FIRM

Force, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—A committee of miners representing 350 striking coal diggers in this and neighboring communities today asked the U. S. attorney general to investigate the 40-year-old receivership of the Shawmut Mining company, for whom they work.

The miners, who have been away from work since July 16 in a protest against sanitation conditions, sent a telegram to Thomas Clark, the attorney general, with a copy to President Truman. The message said in part:

"We, American citizens, residing in the feudal coal company towns of Force, Hollywood and Byrnedale in Elk and Clearfield counties in Pennsylvania, appeal to you for justice.

"We ask that you institute an investigation of the receivership that for 40 long years has administered the bankrupt Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern railroad and its subsidiary, the Shawmut Mining company, which operates the mines in which we work.

"In 40 years, not a line in the way of a report has ever been filed by the receivers of this bankrupt corporation with the United States court in Pittsburgh, although the order appointing the present receiver specifically provides that reports of receipts and disbursements be filed regularly."

Meanwhile, James Mark, president of the United Mine Workers District 2, at Clearfield, disclosed he had offered to arrange a meeting between the mining company and a delegation of mine workers.

NO INSANITY IN DEATH CASE

Erie, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—Testimony was continued today in Erie county court in the case of two Williamsport, Pa., men—Robert W. Petterman, 29, and John D. West, 27—accused of beating Joseph B. Campbell, 73, to death with a bedroom slipper.

Witnesses for the Commonwealth occupied the stand most of the time yesterday, although both defendants testified.

Attorney Elmer D. Loose said he would base the defense principally "on the terrifically bad background of those boys." He added he would not make an insanity plea, but would stress psychology, psychiatry, and "the mental attitude at the time of the killing."

District Attorney Burton R. Laub reiterated a previous statement that he would ask the death penalty.

In the morning session a precedent was set by the admission of recordings of statements allegedly given by the accused at Erie state police barracks. Later, signed statements were read from the stand by State Police Sgt. William Schauer, of Erie, and Pvt. William Pink, Williamsport.

Cpl. Bernard J. Maran, officer in charge of identification for the state police, testified that a life thumb print on the handle of the turtle-back of Campbell's car was identical to West's.

Col. Cherrington Fatally Stricken

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—Col. George H. Cherrington, 61, former commander of Camp Reynolds and a widely known industrialist, died suddenly from a heart attack yesterday on the golf course of the field club in Fox chapel.

Before taking charge at Camp Reynolds, Col. Cherrington directed the Internal Security division of the western Pennsylvania district.

He drew up plans for the Shenango personnel replacement depot and became commanding officer when it was activated in January, 1943. The depot later was named Camp Reynolds.

PRISONERS SET UP ESPIONAGE IN JAP PRISON

By FRED HAMPSON

Manila, Sept. 6 (AP)—Six British officers and 35 men, captured by the Japanese at Hong Kong, established an espionage system which actually succeeded in communicating with Chungking and New Delhi from prison, but three of them paid with their lives for the feat, one of the plotters disclosed today.

He was Sub-Lt. Joseph Haddock, British naval officer from Ipswich, England, who was among 320 liberated Hong Kong prisoners who arrived here yesterday aboard the British hospital ship Oxfordshire.

Haddock said that he himself was sentenced to 15 years in prison and subjected to water-torture which almost drowned him.

The young officer was taken to Canton to serve his term in a prison from which he said 23 American airmen had disappeared one by one.

Kill U. S. Civilian
"I'm sure they were all executed," he said. "I know positively that one was executed last April along with three Chinese. The Chinese were beheaded and the American shot."

Haddock said he also knew definitely of the death of an American civilian in the mass execution of 34 prisoners on November 29, 1943. Among those executed in December, 1943, for the underground plot at the Shamshupo prison in Kowloon, opposite Hong Kong was a Colonel Newham, chief of staff of the Hong Kong garrison, Haddock said.

After being strapped to a ladder and doused with water until he was nearly dead, Haddock was beaten on the head until he lost his sight for nearly a year, he said, but his sight has slowly returned.

Dying Girl Eager To Buy Xmas Gift

Oakland Calif., Sept. 6 (AP)—Ten-year-old Margaret Ann Jones gazed determinedly from her sickbed at a jar of money on the night stand and said:

"By Christmas the jar will be full and I will be well, and I'm going to go downtown and pick out my own present."

Her father, Thomas J. Jones, explained that he puts a dollar each week in the jar, which he said symbolizes Margaret's fighting spirit to overcome a rare bone disease which medical science says is fatal.

Physicians said her death is "a matter of weeks."

REFUGEES ARE FLOODING BACK TO YOKOHAMA

By HAL BOYLE

Yokohama, (AP)—Japanese street scenes:

Refugees flooding back to Yokohama, with women carrying babies in the traditional "piggy back" manner. Junior securely strapped to mama's tired shoulders by two cloth bands—one around his bottom and one under his arms.

Thousands of refugees living in rusty tin sheet huts in bombed out areas.

Clothing is almost as big a problem as food for the Japanese. They are so short of fabrics that it is no longer possible for them to patch garments with cloths of the same color. One middle-aged, dignified man, wearing spectacles and carrying an umbrella, had a coat so patched it could have been stretched out and used for a chess board.

Shortage of Shoes

Scarcity of shoes also has given these people reason for exercising ingenuity. Many pick their way on bare feet through glass littered streets. Others wear the black fabric shoes with split toes, like something from medieval times. Only the well-to-do can afford leather footwear. Some bind their feet with rags. Most walk foot-logged about on flat wooden stilt-shaped boards. Groups of workmen wearing these stilt like shoes sound like a cavalry charge.

A few enterprising boys have tried flattened tin cans to their feet with ropes.

Japanese girls have come out of brief hiding. Their parents are convinced American soldiers won't harm them, an opinion in which the soldiers enthusiastically concur. Most of them look more like Madam Dragonfly than Madam Butterfly, is the army opinion. The girls are extremely coy and giggle whenever a group of soldiers pass. Few wear kimonos on the streets. Most dress in workaday slacks, and, sad to relate, they bunch out behind just like the girls in trousers at home. "They look," said one critical soldier, "like they were carrying laundry back there."

Land of Umbrellas

This is really a land of umbrellas. Every busy little Japanese carries a battered black cloth or bamboo ribbed rain protector, tucked under his elbow. Many civilians, as well as soldiers, wear wrap-around leggings.

There are many street scavengers and nothing escapes them. Their sharp eyes dart this way and that but rarely lift above the street level. They put cigarette butts they pick up behind their ears.

Movies are still entertainment where the Japanese seek to forget their troubles. No Japanese seems too poor to fork over the ten cents admission. They stand in long lines to get into film houses and kids run the last block. The pictures are Japanese productions. One American wisecracker: "They are still showing newsreels of Pearl Harbor."

Winter Homes Of 1946 Insects

It is important at this time of the year that every farmer, orchardist and gardener know where and how destructive insects spend their winters. This knowledge, coupled with effective control action, may easily lead to greatly reduced crop losses in 1946. Here are a few outstanding pests and details of how to prevent their survival over the coming winter:

Mexican Bean Beetle—The copper-colored beetles live over from year to year in the adult form, hibernated beneath dead vegetation in and near gardens. Weed-infested fence rows are a favorite haunt for this ravaging enemy. Strict sanitation in burning all bean refuse after the last crop is harvested, also cleaning out debris from fence rows and other idle nooks and using safe materials on the compost heap will go far in reducing the number of surviving beetles. There is no danger of beetles living over in decaying compost.

Striped Cucumber Beetle—Not only does the adult beetle spend its winter, like the bean beetle, in hibernation beneath old vegetation in and near the garden, emerging in May to feed on almost all cucurbit plants, but it carries overburdens of wilt from year to year in its body. Therefore, sanitary measures to clean out all sheltering refuse will attain a dual end—reduce the beetle population next year and eliminate the extreme dangers of wilt.

Sweet Corn Ear Worm—When the hungry cabbage worms hatch are laid by a small butterfly which is active from the first warm spell in March until early October. The last brood of worms build small cocoons or chrysalides, fastening them to trees, fences and other sheltering objects near the garden. Late summer and autumn control measures include careful gathering and burning of all cabbage refuse—stalks, leaves and undeveloped heads left on the field, also in keeping birds numerous in the neighborhood around the entire year.

Codling Moth (Apple Worm)—Emerging from infested apples in late summer, codling moth worms build a silk-lined cocoon on decaying tree stubs, beneath loose bark, in nearby buildings, and elsewhere in dry shelters. From these come egg-laying moths about the time apple trees open their first leaves. Birds are natural enemies of codling moths at all stages of development. Scraping loose bark from apple trees before winter, cleaning all debris from orchards and adjoining fence rows, and special care in screening packing sheds in the spring to prevent escape of the emerging moths are among the most effective control safeguards.

DEMAND PEARL HARBOR PROBE

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Senate and House Republicans united today in demanding a full-dress congressional investigation of Pearl Harbor.

Indications were nothing could head them off.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts called for "a full and impartial investigation" as the Senate Republican steering committee backed legislation to set up a 14-member Senate-House committee to make the inquiry.

"We're going to press for an independent investigation that will give the people all the facts," Martin said in an interview. "We believe that the people are entitled to know the whole truth about the Pearl Harbor disaster."

He added that he did not believe the recent reports of army and navy boards on what happened at Pearl Harbor—December 7, 1941, cleared the atmosphere.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), indicating that an inquiry seemed almost inevitable, told reporters:

"I wish we could forget Pearl Harbor, but we can't."

Says Hubby Tried To Murder His Wife

Blairtown, N. J., Sept. 6 (AP)—State Police Lieut. Carl E. Fuchs said Mrs. James C. Gibbs, wife of a 56-year-old Johnsonburg feed store owner charged with an unsuccessful plot to have her slain, told investigators yesterday her husband had beaten her on the head with a hammer handle and dragged her down a flight of stairs last March.

"She explained she never said anything about it because she didn't want to make trouble," Fuchs said. He quoted her as saying she claimed when admitted to a hospital where she spent ten days that she had fallen down a flight of stairs.

MAN-TRAINERS
No hope have I of changing matters much,
All pretty things I know I mustn't touch.
Women have trained me, since I was a child,
And to that slavery now I'm reconciled.
How please the women? I can tell you that:
Always, on coming home, hang up your hat.
Remember, too, when entering from the street:
There is a mat whereon to wipe your feet.
Mother and aunts and serving women, too,
Long years ago taught me what man should do:
Don't let discarded raiment lie about,
And never leave the dresser drawers pulled out.
Such training lasts from cradle to the grave!
Man never learns correctly to behave.
He runs the house like an unbroken pup,
Behind him follow women "picking up."
And till he dies he'll hear them all deplore:
"Man never learns what hooks and shelves are for."

Today's Talk

WALK IN THE LIGHT
There are people who seem to prefer to walk in the dark, who have formed the habit of looking on the dark side of things, and who are always looking for the worst—first. The opposite program is the way of progress. Walk in the light. Look upon the bright side of things. Always expect the best! This is no Pollyanna suggestion. It is sound sense, and its value has been demonstrated time and again. The effect upon the mind of a cheerful front, and its stimulating effect upon the physical body, is remarkable.
All Nature seeks out the light. It will use every device at its command to work its way into the sunshine. Darkness is death to Nature. The cheerful, smiling, playing child, is always the healthy child. You don't have to worry over its health. Old "Sour Face" thinks that he is demonstrating bigness and importance in his attitude, but he is only making a fool out of himself, and giving good proof of the fact.
People walk quickly away from the exhibitor of ill will, hard luck, and tough times. They cross the street and—walk in the light, where people take their courage with them, and use it for currency. In the dark you are forever stumbling, but in the light you see where you are going.
Like everything in nature we human beings grow in the light. Our minds are more active. Our incentive is greater. And our spiritual forces take on new life. There is happy activity among all those who have formed the habit of laking in the light.
Our happiest and most valuable companions and friends are met while in the light. God walks on the sunny side, too, as well as the great of this earth. What more can one say to prove the statement that it always pays to walk in the light?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Newspaper Poets."

Giant Dirigible Shenandoah Breaks In Three Pieces Killing Thirteen Officers And Men: (By Associated Press) Caldwell, Ohio, Sept. 3—The giant dirigible Shenandoah is no more.
It went down here in three pieces early today and killed its commander, Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, and at least 12 of the officers and men making up her crew.
The airship struck a line-squall, a variety of storms most feared by airmen, shortly after five o'clock this morning while traveling at an altitude of 3,000 feet enroute from Lakehurst, New Jersey, to the Middle West.

There was no explosion. The big ship simply met winds of a strength which it was unable to combat.

SPECIAL JAP
ENVOY DENIES
HE KNEW PLOT

San Francisco, Sept. 6 (AP)—Saburo Kurusu, Japanese special envoy who was discussing peace in Washington at the moment of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, was quoted today as contending that he knew nothing of the raid plans and was "deeply hurt" by the American accusation that he was bait for the trap.

Frederick C. Oppen, American Broadcasting Company correspondent, also quoted Kurusu as reiterating: "I did not know anything about the attack on Pearl Harbor before I left Tokyo. As a matter of fact, I found Prime Minister Tojo more optimistic about chances for peace than I was. I told him I thought things were very precarious in the Pacific and when I met President Roosevelt a little later I told him the same thing—that a single spark could start war in the Pacific."

Got Tongue Lashing
Oppen, who related in a broadcast from Yokohama that he interviewed Kurusu at his home seven hours by train out of Tokyo, said the envoy told him that on December 7, 1941, his appointment with Secretary Hull was delayed by the slow decoding of a long message from Tokyo.

When he met Hull, he received the Secretary's now-famous tongue-lashing and then returned to the Japanese embassy and learned about Pearl Harbor from the radio, he asserted.

Kurusu said he was confident that the Japanese ambassador to Washington, Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura, also was ignorant of Pearl Harbor plans.

Asked by Oppen if he didn't think he and Nomura were used by Tojo to present a peace front and cover the sneak assault, Kurusu replied, "I don't think that's quite fair to General Tojo. I know from speaking to him before I left Tokyo that he wanted peace. But of course the Japanese government had many plans to cover many possibilities, just as our government has."

Said He Was Hurt
"In Tokyo they decided to put the Pearl Harbor plan into effect, although I do not know at what moment, but still they probably could have called it off at the very last minute if I had been successful in maintaining peace."

"What hurts me is to be called treacherous and double-crossing by Americans. I have worked hard for peace."

"Now, in this war, I have lost everything—my reputation, my home, my only son. Let no one think I like war."

Oppen said Kurusu told him his home had been burned down in a B-29 raid and his son, a captain in the Japanese air force, had been killed in a fight over Tokyo.

Allocations Made For State Institutions

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—Governor Martin has made some allocation from $61,000,000 appropriated by the Legislature for postwar construction at state institutions.

The governor, however, in answering a reporter's inquiry late yesterday, declined to say where the allocations were made.

"What we are doing is checking all the allocations for health, welfare and education," he said. "Some of them have been approved. The appropriations include $7,000,000 to the Department of Public Instruction for construction at the Pennsylvania State college; the state's 14 teachers' colleges and other educational institutions; $14,485,000 to the Welfare Department for institutional building; $16,500,000 to the Department of Forests and Waters for reforestation, stream clearance, parks and recreational areas; $10,325,000 to the Department of Health for institutional construction and elimination of stream pollution; $2,450,000 to the Department of Military Affairs for armories and reservations; $1,850,000 for new state police barracks and $6,000,000 for the development of Capitol park and a William Penn memorial at Harrisburg.

SAYS UTILITIES
HAVE BUILT UP
HUGE RESERVES

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania Utilities have accumulated a "terrific buying power" for rehabilitation and reconstruction as a result of an artificial economic situation created by the war, Chairman John Siggins, Jr., of the Public Utility Commission said today.

Siggins said the Commission has not tabulated the total amount of reserves built up by utility companies during the war years but said they have the cash to go ahead with purchases necessary to give good service as soon as material and equipment become available.

The Commission in June, 1943, said in a statement of policy that it was imperative that utilities "maintain a strong financial position" so that they could enter the post-war period prepared to take up promptly deferred maintenance and rehabilitation.

No Investigations
"The Commission deems it inadvisable," the declaration added, "to institute formal investigations into the reasonableness of existing rates which appear to be producing increased earnings as the result of an artificial economic situation created by war conditions."

At the same time, the commission urged all utilities to refrain from paying dividends or salaries "materially higher" than those in peacetime or the commission would institute an investigation into rates of any company showing abnormal earnings.

"Utilities have cooperated very nearly 100 per cent," Siggins said. "The exceptions where they haven't have been rare."

He added the policy is still in force and indicated the commission has been watching carefully the annual reports of utilities to the commission.

"We are not here to manage utility companies," he emphasized, "but to see that good service is given at reasonable rates to consumers."

Without Stomach Relievers
This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery
When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 25 feet or more of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion are slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need BEECHAM'S PILLS. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. STRIKE SNARLS PUPIL TRAVEL IN LANCASTER

(By The Associated Press)
Workers of six collieries of the Glen Alden Coal company, idle since Tuesday, have voted to return to work today, Michael Kosik, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, reported.

As the strike which had idled some 4,000 anthracite miners was scheduled to come to an end, new problems loomed at SKF Industries, Inc., plants in the Philadelphia area.

The work stoppage of employees of the Conestoga Transportation company in Lancaster county continued to snarl travel of persons in that county, including children returning to school.

Meanwhile, the American Chain and Cable company in York announced a vast postwar expansion program of civilian goods.

The company lifted two permits yesterday for the construction of factory buildings at the Wright-Manley plant in York. Each building will cost $17,500, the company stated.

Reason for Strike
The strike at the Glen Alden collieries was called by the "general body," a group Kosik said had been set up to represent ten company operations.

According to members of the "general body," the walkout was caused by the company's alleged action in docking a portion of the men's wages and a fraction of portal-to-portal pay after employees left their posts an hour before quitting time.

Kosik said the strike was unauthorized, that the UMW does not recognize the "general body."

In Lancaster, James B. Yoder, president of Local 1241, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach employees of America (CIO) said the Union is determined to remain on strike until the Conestoga company signs a contract.

The company announced earlier it would refuse to negotiate with its employees until they ended the strike.

Other continuing strikes include the two and a half week old stoppages of 1,870 employees at the Spicer Manufacturing company plant at Pottstown and of 6,500 at the Midvale Steel company in Nicetown.

Georgia Beauty Wins "Mrs. America" Title

Palisades Park, N. J., Sept. 6 (AP)—Blonde, gray-eyed Peggy Payne, disqualified from the Atlantic City "Miss America" contest when her secret marriage to an honorably discharged army private was disclosed was the holder today of the title of "Mrs. America."

The 22 year old Hopeville, Ga., beauty, who had been selected three weeks ago as "Miss Atlanta" won her title last night from 139 other wedded aspirants in the 7th annual beauty pageant at Palisades amusement park.

A $1,000 cash award and a paid tour of cities including Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Washington, Richmond, Buffalo, Bridgeport, Boston and New York goes with the title.

The contest was decided by nine judges headed by Gypsy Rose Lee.

Will Offer Bill On St. Lawrence Seaways

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Senator Aiken, (R-Vt.), said today a joint, bi-partisan St. Lawrence Seaways bill will be introduced soon in the Senate.

Aiken said it probably will bear the names of two Democrats and one Republican as well as his own.

He asserted, in an interview, that he does not yet know how the bill will differ from bills already introduced calling for development of the St. Lawrence river and the great lakes.

The opponents said in 1941 it would take the work of 100,000 men, 80 per cent of them skilled or semi-skilled, four years to complete the project," he said.

"That is a good argument for it now, whether or not their figures were accurate. In any case, it would furnish a lot of work to a lot of men."

STATE ACT BARS DOUBLE BENEFIT

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania's laws as amended by the 1945 legislature bar anyone from receiving unemployment compensation if the recipient is receiving aid from another state or the federal government.

Governor Martin made this disclosure yesterday in a telegram to U. S. Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Senator George requested the information in connection with proposed legislation in congress to supplement state payments in order to bring the maximum up to $25 a week, with the federal government continuing the payments after a state's period of coverage runs out.

In Pennsylvania the maximum compensation payments are $20 a week for 20 weeks.

Martin said he had been unable to find any instances in Pennsylvania of war workers being deprived of unemployment compensation benefits because of any interpretation of what might be termed "suitable" work.

Under the law suitable work must be lacking before an applicant can draw jobless pay.

"There are certain industries in Pennsylvania like steel and mines where there aren't sufficient workers," said Martin. "It's going to take a little time to make those adjustments."

General Eisenhower Arrives In Brussels

Brussels, Sept. 6 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower arrived by train in Brussels today to receive the freedom of the city and met a rousing welcome.

He inspected a Belgian guard of honor lined up on the platform at the Gare du Midi. With him was Col. John Sherman, chief of the U. S. mission to Belgium. Later he was received by Burgomaster Hanse of Saint Gilles.

Before the general entered his car outside the station two young Belgian girls rushed up and kissed him on both cheeks. A crowd of several thousand outside the station shouted "Vive Eisenhower."

WALLACE HAS NEW BOOK; 60 MILLION JOBS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace produced a new book today, "Sixty Million Jobs." He's been working on it for months. What it says is based on the title.

He thinks this country, to be prosperous, must set a goal of 60 million jobs by 1950—and more later—and must have a national income of 200 billion dollars.

(In 1944—the last full wartime year and the highest year on record for national income—that income was about 150 billion dollars.)

Wallace said: "I believe we can attain this goal without a planned economy, without disastrous inflation and without an unbalanced budget that will endanger our national credit."

The suggestion of 60 million jobs—for people willing to work and wanting work—was first proposed by President Roosevelt in a Chicago speech last Oct. 28.

Restore War Areas
Wallace thought then Mr. Roosevelt had set his sights too high.

He doesn't think so now. He says our first big postwar job abroad is to help restore some of the areas torn by war. Then there must be some effort toward industrializing backward countries.

This, he says, will require from 55 to 65 billion dollars worth of plant and equipment in the next few years. And who'd pay the bill?

Approximately half of the money, Wallace says, "could easily come from the United States if suitable arrangements for its financing were worked out." But exactly how Wallace doesn't say.

Wallace thinks 18 million new housing units could be built in the next 10 years. This would aid workers through employment and builders through new business.

These are some other suggestions Wallace makes: A greatly expanded public health service, a nationwide hospital building program. Health insurance. Right here he says:

Federal help in such projects—as in housing and education—must not lead to federal control.

And he proposes this to provide better employment and living: Land conservation, forest development, rural electrification, developing our river valleys like TVA.

Furniture Market In Fall Called Off

Jamestown, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—Due to lack of merchandise and travel restrictions, a fall furniture market will not be held this year, Clyne Crawford, president of the Jamestown Area Furniture Manufacturers' Association, has announced.

Crawford said the decision was reached yesterday at an association meeting, where members reported they would not have sufficient time to bring out new lines for a fall show.

A show definitely will be held next spring, he said.

Entertain Mother At Birthday Party

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Miller, Lincolnway east, held a surprise party recently in celebration of Mrs. Miller's birthday anniversary, August 31. The guest of honor received many gifts. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cowan and daughter, Ruth Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cool and children, Norman, Edward, Guy and Mrs. Clyde Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller and daughter, Barbara Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Trostle, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller and daughter, Iara, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Miller and children, Clair, Bobby, Billy, Shirley, Donald, Owen and Carolyn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller and son, Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. John Hull and daughter, Linda Lou, and Mrs. Lawrence Guise.

All of the children were present except Lt. Eugene H. Miller, who is serving in Germany, and a son-in-law, T/3 Lawrence Guise, who is also in Germany.

BOY, 9, IS HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

South Fork, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—Three-year-old Phyllis Jean Epperson, only child of Edgar L. Epperson, serving with the army in the Philippines, and Mary Harvey Epperson, was found dead last night on a pile of rocks near her home in this Cambria county community.

Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar said the child's skull had been crushed when she was apparently beaten over the head with a rock.

At the same time state police and Chief County Detective John F. Carroll announced they were holding in custody a nine-year-old schoolboy whom they said led them to the body and admitted striking the child with rocks from a river bed.

Police said the boy told them that after he hit the girl he left her lying on a rock pile and went home to bed.

The officers said he was sleeping soundly when they went to his home, a block and a half from the Eppersons. They said they found bloodstained clothing in his room.

Police said they asked the boy why he hit the little girl and he answered: "I don't know."

Judge Schoonmaker Dies In Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—Judge F. P. Schoonmaker of the federal district court died today at the home of his daughter in South Norwalk, Conn., associates here were advised today.

The jurist, a veteran of the Mexican border campaign and of World War I, was elevated to his post in the western district of Pennsylvania by President Harding. He had been in ill health when he left for New England three weeks ago.

Atoms in an ordinary kitchen stove emit enough invisible infrared rays to permit the taking of photographs of nearby objects in total darkness with a photographic film sensitive to the rays.

Two Rumored For Federal Judgeships

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Two former Democratic members of congress, Sam Jackson, Indiana and James McGranery of Pennsylvania, were reported in House cloakroom gossip today to be in line for appointment to Federal judgeships.

Both are reported to have been chosen by President Truman for vacancies on the United States Court of Appeals for the district of Columbia.

McGranery represented the second Pennsylvania district in the House prior to becoming assistant to the attorney general.

Would Put Deferred, 4-Fs, In Occupation

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Rep. Joe Bates (D-Ky.) makes this suggestion:

Let's fill the Army of Occupation with men deferred as 4-F or as war workers.

"Every man with overseas stripes should be discharged," Bates told a reporter. "Why can't some of the 3,000,000 deferred since the draft began be put in uniform now? Many of these were turned down earlier for minor physical disabilities which wouldn't prevent them from serving in a police force abroad."

Truman Asks Retention Of War Powers; 21-Point Plan

means "opportunity to get a good peace time job for every worker who is ready, able and willing to take one," and not "made work or making people work."

Point by point, the Chief Executive recommended:

1. Enactment of "full employment" legislation.
2. Federal emergency benefit payments to provide weekly unemployment compensation up to a maximum of $25 throughout the country.
3. Amend the Fair Labor Standards act to substantially increase the minimum wage level of 40 cents an hour which he described as now "obsolete."
4. Extend the provisions of the Second War Powers act to preserve "the powers necessary" to keep the economy stabilized and "permit us to enter into the difficult period of readjustment without the threat of a disastrous price collapse." Mr. Truman added it would be necessary for the government also to resist "pressures for increases in wage rates which would imperil price ceilings."

Reorganize Agencies

5. Legislation making permanent the President's authority to reorganize administrative agencies "to permit him to lay out the machinery" for carrying on peacetime responsibilities. He said "executive initiative," which he suggested be subject to congressional veto, "is an effective approach to governmental reorganization."
6. Legislation previously asked creating a permanent fair employment practice committee to prevent employment discriminations involving race, religion and color.
7. Legislation strengthening the Department of Labor and giving it supervision of collective bargaining, conciliation and voluntary arbitration. The President added that the War Labor board should be abolished "as soon after the conclusion of the forthcoming industry-labor conference as the orderly disposition of the work of the board and the provisions of the War Labor Disputes act permit, and after facilities have been provided to take care of the wage stabilization functions under the act of October 2, 1942."
8. Continuance of the employment service under federal control "at least until the expiration of the War Mobilization act—June 30, 1947." He asked that the employment service appropriation for the current fiscal year be increased by $10,000,000 to help find jobs for demobilized veterans and displaced war workers.

Subsidy For Farmers

9. Enactment of additional measures to strengthen the machinery for carrying out price support commitments to farmers and "for laying the basis for broader peacetime markets for agricultural products." He recommended that the $500,000,000 of lend-lease funds which Congress set aside for farm commodity price support be made available to the Commodity Credit Corporation on a continuing basis.
10. Continued inductions of men 18 through 25 for periods of two years, since "we cannot rely on voluntary recruitment as the sole method of procuring the necessary replacements" and it would be an "unforgivable discrimination" to suspend inductions now at the cost of requiring continued sacrifice from veterans "who have already done their part."
11. Enactment at an early date of a "broad and comprehensive housing" bill involving the cardinal principle that house construction and financing for the overwhelming majority of Americans "should be done by private enterprise." For those low income groups, representing but a small portion of the total housing need, our prewar program of federal aid to communities for low rent housing should be resumed," the President added. He also recommended that "we quicken our rate of progress in rural housing."

One Research Agency

12. For carrying on scientific research and development, the President asked Congress to set up a single federal research agency to promote and support research in basic sciences, social sciences, medicine, public health and allied fields. This agency would aid in all projects pertaining to defense and security and make available to commerce and industry the fruits of government-financed research.
13. Enactment of the transitional tax bill, which he said "must not lose sight of the budgetary situation and our obligations to 85,000,000 bondholders." He suggested that after passage of such a bill Congress consider modernizing the tax structure with a view to encouraging business incentives and expansion and increasing consumer purchasing power.
14. Creation of a single surplus property administrator in place of the board of three operating under legislation enacted last year.
15. Aids to small businesses to enable them "to obtain adequate materials, private financing, technological improvements and surplus property."

Aid For Veterans

16. That Congress expedite legislation giving additional aid to veterans to carry them over from mili-

Max Schmeling Is Nabbed By British

Herford, Germany, Sept. 6 (AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, was arrested by British military government authorities last night on a charge of "breach of military government orders," and it was expected he would be tried some time next week.

One British officer here said the charge, first of its kind to come before the military courts in the British zone, might be merely "a formality to hold Schmeling in custody until a more definite charge is lodged."

GRID COACH DIES

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 6 (AP)—Lt. Col. Maurice F. (Moe) Daly, 44, former West Point football star and coach for 10 years until 1941, died last Jan. 21 aboard a Japanese prison ship according to official word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Daly of Hartford.

tary to civilian activities through better organization and over-all planning along the lines recommended by the Veterans Administration dealing with vocational readjustment, education and training. The President asked Congress for legislation giving veterans social security coverage credit for the period of their service in the armed forces.

17. A public works program calling for (1) reclamation, rivers and harbors, flood control and conservation projects; (2) construction of necessary federal buildings throughout the country; (3) the release for immediate expenditure of postwar highway spending authority voted by Congress to become effective at the rate of $500,000,000 a year for each of the first three postwar years; (4) appropriation of $25,000,000 to continue the construction of the Inter-American highway through Central America to the Canal Zone; (5) the construction of 3,900 new airports and the improvement of 500 others; (6) grants to state and local governments for public works; and (7) the provision of federal grants for the construction of hospital and health centers.

Two Earthquakes Reported Today

Weston, Mass., Sept. 6 (AP)—A "quite strong" three-hour earthquake, apparently in the vicinity of the East Indies, was recorded on the Weston college seismograph at 12:07:55 a. m. (Eastern War Time) today.

New York, Sept. 6 (AP)—Two earth shocks, described as strong, and probably located in the south Pacific were recorded by the seismograph at Fordham university last night. Dr. William Lynch, assistant director of the seismic station, said today.

The first shock was at 6:07:49 p. m., and the second at 6:09:34 p. m. Eastern War Time. The distance was approximately 8,600 miles.

Fatalities Drop In Rural Areas

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—A 50 per cent drop in traffic fatalities in rural areas over Labor Day, as compared with 1944, was reported today by Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Commissioner of State Police.

"Labor Day traffic fatalities in the rural sections of Pennsylvania, where the state police have jurisdiction, were but two," Wilhelm said. "That was for the three-day holiday period—last Saturday to Monday inclusive."

QUISLING SAYS HE'S A PATRIOT

By NED NORDNESS

Oslo, Sept. 6 (AP) — The man whose name the world has made synonymous with "traitor" stood up today in the court that is trying him for his life, and said with vigor and bitterness:

"I am Quisling the patriot."

His voice shaking with emotion, Vidkun Quisling declared:

"I have worked 49 years to help this country and sacrificed everything, and now I stand here as a traitor."

"The names Bjornson and Ibsen (two of Norway's greatest) are of the same family as mine, so there is no dirty water in my veins. The name Quisling does not mean what people seem to think now; It has an old Norse meaning—the one who is an offshoot of a Royal family."

Fortrightly and without apology, the pale, sandy-haired defendant added:

"I am Quisling the patriot."

Earlier, his defense attorney, Henrik Bergh, had urged full acquittal or "the mildest sort of treatment" for Quisling, whom he described yesterday as a riddle.

To that, the ex-dictator reported today, "there is no riddle in me—the riddle is in the Norwegian people."

Italians Attack Two Girls With Allies

Rome, Sept. 6 (AP)—Allied soldiers, swinging fists and firing pistols, fought off jealous Italian youths last night when they attempted to strip the clothing from two Italian girls the soldiers were escorting. It was the second such incident in two nights.

Military police intervened and restored order after one bystander was struck in the foot by a pistol shot. Sporadic outbreaks, continued between soldiers and youths posing as protectors of Italian girls, and police closed bars and cafes before midnight.

The night before a mob had gathered when Italian youths disrobed two girls who had been escorted by Allied soldiers.

Victory Parade In Berlin On Friday

Berlin, Sept. 6 (AP)—Four thousand infantrymen and 200 armored crews of the United States, Russia, Britain and France prepared today for a V-J victory parade through the Tiergarten tomorrow morning.

Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov and a ranking French general were expected to receive the salute during the military spectacle.

TRAFFIC HAZARD

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—Although he is a member of a religious sect which does not believe in shaving, Bob Harner of Akron, O., has removed his flowing beard. Harner, a midjet race driver who competes here tonight, explained: "My beard interfered with driving. Trouble was the wind would roar through it and half the time I couldn't see where I was headed."

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington and Lancaster snatched Interstate League twin bills last (Wednesday) night to continue the flag drive into the last four days of play.

The Red Roses won a pair from York 2-1 and 9-2 behind expert pitching of Bill Angstadt and Tex Kardow.

Wilmington all but ruined the Hagerstown Owls' chances of coping a playoff berth by winning twice 2-0 and 5-4. Bob Chalkales, 17-year-old freshman hurler, tossed a four-hitter in the opener and Hilly Flitters chucked a six-hitter in the aftermath.

Trenton and Allentown divided a twin bill as each gained a game over the Owls. Trenton bagged the opener 5-4 and Allentown the nightcap 7-1.

Also taken into custody were three of the sect members—Paul Dotson, Leander Ely and John Wilson—on charges alleging they "unlawfully and feloniously" brought poisonous snakes to a religious demonstration of Stone Creek Saturday and allowed them to be turned loose among spectators and snuck members and that one of the snakes bit Mrs. Kirk, causing her death.

The 26-year-old woman died six hours after her baby was born prematurely. The child lived 20 minutes. Dr. G. T. Poust, who signed the death certificate, gave the cause of death as rattlesnake bites.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Scranton Miners are clinging to a faint hope that they may yet gain an Eastern league play-off.

The fifth-place Miners kept that hope alive last night by setting down fourth-place Hartford 7-1, 10-8 in a win bill. With eight games to go, Scranton is five games behind the Laurels.

Utica, relaxing after clinching the league pennant two night ago, dropped a doubleheader to tallend Williamsport, 5-3, 3-0. Albany white-washed Wilkes-Barre 12-0 in the lid-lifter and then fell 14-4 before a 14-hit Baron attack in the night-cap. Binghamton outlasted Elmira 11-10.

Time is running out on the American League Tiger chasers with Detroit's 2½-game lead looming more formidable with each passing day as the opposition begins to get short on games to play.

Washington, the closest rival, has only 22 left and all of them must be shoved into the records before September 23 when the Nats wind up their schedule a full week ahead of the rest of the league.

After absorbing a disheartening 10-7 pasting in the opener against Detroit yesterday the New York Yankees found the Bengals' weakness in the second game. Lefty Joe Page, good enough to make the 1944 All-Star team but later shuffled back to the minors, hurled his first complete game of the year, a gaudy three-hit effort that completely bamboozled the leaders, 5-1.

St. Louis and Washington muffed a chance to gain when they split a pair at Griffith stadium, the Nats' taking the opener, 2-1, in 11 innings on Micky Haefer's five-hit effort. Washington had the other half all wrapped up to take home when Lou Finney tied it up with a homer in the ninth and the Browns finally won out, 4-3, in the 10th.

Boston, Tribe Split
Boston all but eliminated Cleveland from serious contention by beating Bobby Feller, 2-1, in the first of two although the Tribe bounced back behind Allie Reynolds, 5-2, for an even break.

Chicago took both ends of a twilight double from Philadelphia, rounding out a complete twin bill program in the American, swamping the A's, 15-6, and skinning through, 6-5, in 14 innings.

Lefty Ray Prim and Claude Passeau boosted the Chicago Cubs' National League advance to 4½ lengths by whipping the New York Giants, 5-2 and 10-2, in opening a long final stand against the invading eastern teams.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, St. Louis Cardinals' left-hander and top hurler in the National loop, earned his 11th victory to three setbacks, by dumping Boston, 4-2.

Brooklyn widened its third-place margin over New York to three games by nosing out Pittsburgh, 5-3, on Goody Rosen's 10th homer with Vic Lombardi on base in the 10th frame.

Cincinnati gave Mike Modak his first big league decision, 1-0, at the Phillies' expense but the Reds couldn't stand prosperity and bowed, 8-4, to Charley Schanz in the after-dark half.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Sept. 6 (AP)—When the American Bowling Congress cancelled its 1943 tournament in Buffalo it had 3,700 reservations on hand, which were kept on the books.

Since the end of the war with Japan was announced last month, 200 requests for reservations have come to Secretary Elmer Baumgarten's desk. . . . That ought to be sufficient proof of Baumgarten's contention that the game of bowling is at least 7,000 years old although the ABC will be celebrating only its 50th anniversary next Sunday.

People couldn't get quite so crazy about a game in a mere half century. . . . Flight Sgt. Robert Taylor (not the movie actor) is slated to play for the Canadian RAP soccer team against a New York combined team Sunday. This Robert has a rep too. England's Newcastle United club once turned down 10,000 pounds for his contract.

ONE-MAN TEAM

Herb Brett of the Danville club in the Carolina league played a big role in organizing the class "C" circuit last spring. . . . He is president and business manager of his club, in which he's majority stockholder, and as field manager he piloted the team to first place and was selected to manage the league's all-star team. . . . At the start of the season Herb did some relief pitching but took himself off the active list to make room for another player. . . . The old softie.

A hint from some guys who may know is that Martin (Mr. Short-stop) Marion won't be playing for the Cards next season. Story is that Slat will want more dough than Sam Bredon will pay so he'll be sold for a fancy price and Al Schoendienst will take over. . . . Prexy Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association favors continuation of boxing's service athletic fund under a new name to benefit indigent boxers. . . . When Army's football practice got under way, backfield Coach Andy Gustafson had gripped; end Coach Stu Holcombe had a wrenched knee and line Coach Herman Hickman was sniffling with sinus. . . . That didn't keep Herman from chuckling: "Everything's okay as long as the players are all right."

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—

Army, voted the nation's top football team a year ago, still has Felix (Doc) Blanchard and Glenn (Speed) Davis in its backfield and for that reason alone is at least a dead level to retain its crown.

Even Coach Earl (Red) Blaik, speaking with all the studied deliberation of a diplomat, admits that "this is a fine football squad."

Just in case any of the coaches and players listed on the Cadets'

HONUS WAGNER HONORED FOR LONG SERVICE

By ELAINE KAHN

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—The old-flying Dutchman, 71-year-old Honus Wagner, looked back on 50 years in baseball and observed that the game, "like the radio and refrigerator, is full of improvements."

"Ball players used to have to be wrestlers and prize fighters," the Pittsburgh Pirate coach declared. "But they're a lot of gentlemen now."

They honored the grizzled, bow-legged veteran with a special "night" yesterday. There was a telegram from National League President Ford Frick, congratulating "the greatest shortstop of them all," and a rousing ovation from the 19,504 fans.

Part of the game's proceeds, expected to total about $10,000, was set aside in a trust fund for Wagner.

"Through?" spat the Dutchman as he lumbered up to home plate for the ceremonies. "Why, I'm just beginning."

Has Amazing Record

It's 28 years since Honus quit playing for Pittsburgh but his amazing records still stand.

A charter member of baseball's hall of fame, he led his National league in batting eight times and hit .300 in 17 consecutive seasons. He also has a long string of "moats" to his credit, including games, base hits, singles, doubles, triples and times at bat, 10,427.

Wagner recalled that he started as a $35 a month hurler for Steubenville, Ohio, back in 1895.

"I talked it over with some of the boys in Carnegie (Pa.) and they figured that wasn't enough money," Wagner said. "So I wired back I would come for $40. I received a reply stating if I didn't want to come for $35 I could stay where I was—so I went."

His friends told him he'd be back in a couple of days.

"But I fooled them," chuckled Honus. "I didn't come back for 50 years."

nine-game schedule for the coming campaign have forgotten, Blanchard is the young man who caved in the entire left side of the 1944 Notre Dame line in one blast while Davis loomed to 120 points a year ago.

The pair made the best two-pronged attack in college football last fall and they will be as good—or better—this season because Blaik says that his "line is coming along, I am not afraid of that."

He admits to a single worry, a lack of backfield reserves.

U.S. Will Receive Smallest Share Of Reparations From Defeated Germany

PAYMENT WILL BE 5 PER CENT OF RED AMOUNT

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Berlin, Sept. 6 (AP)—The American share of German reparations, it was predicted by financial experts today, is likely to be the smallest of any of the four occupying powers.

The Americans' eventual recompense from the defeated enemy is expected to be about five per cent of that of the Soviet Union, about one-half of Britain's and somewhat less than that of France, despite an intensive search by United States' agents for a treasure trove of concealed German assets abroad estimated at slightly over one billion dollars.

The first major United States proposal before the Allied control council is a decree which would vest ownership of all of Germany's external property in the council. This is deemed necessary before direct action can be taken to seize German assets in neutral countries. The decree is still under discussion.

Seek Hidden Funds

According to preliminary American estimates, the Germans have cashed assets of $989,667,000 among five neutrals, Switzerland is believed to have $600,000,000. The remainder is distributed among Argentina, Spain, Portugal and Turkey.

In addition, possibly another $100,000,000 is secreted in Sweden. All machinations known to high and low finance were used by Nazi capitalists to hide the trail of the wealth they sent abroad. A simplified example is an account opened under a Swiss name in a Swiss bank, transferred to a Dutch bank, retransferred to a Swedish bank and ultimately placed in either the United States or Britain. The handling of commercial stocks make much more baffling problems for investigators.

American interest in uncovering all of Germany's foreign holdings in acute because these offer what is described by financial experts as "about the only feasible form in which we can get some real reparations."

Seek No Resources

Unlike the other Allies, the United States shows little desire to obtain physical resources from Germany. American officials here do not believe their country can make economically worthwhile use of raw materials, virtually none of which are not produced also in the United States; industrial capital equipment; agricultural equipment and livestock; forced labor, or merchant and naval shipping.

But taking everything into consideration, financial sources say that the United States will get back from Germany at most about the cost of waging the war for less than one month.

(Chairman Cannon, D-Mo., of the House Appropriations committee recently estimated Congressional appropriations for war activities at $416,628,032,989 during the five fiscal years beginning July 1, 1940. This would average about $6,944,000,000 a month.)

Pittsburgh Using DDT On Garbage Cans

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6 (AP)—Health Director I. H. Alexander said Wednesday all city garbage cans will be sprayed with the "miracle" insecticide DDT in war on flies and other disease-carrying insects.

The infantile paralysis virus may be spread by flies, Dr. Alexander said, adding the spray is being used in other cities and will be applied again, if satisfactory.

Experts from the research department of Gulf Oil corporation are directing the work.

Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported, making a total of 25 for the year.

Car Strikes Train; Motorist Is Killed

Warren, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—Burt B. Hinsdale, R. D. Warren, was killed Tuesday when his automobile collided with a westbound Erie railroad train.

The body was unidentified until late Wednesday when Coroner Ed Lowrey and state police identified it by means of a Selective Service card and a driver's license.

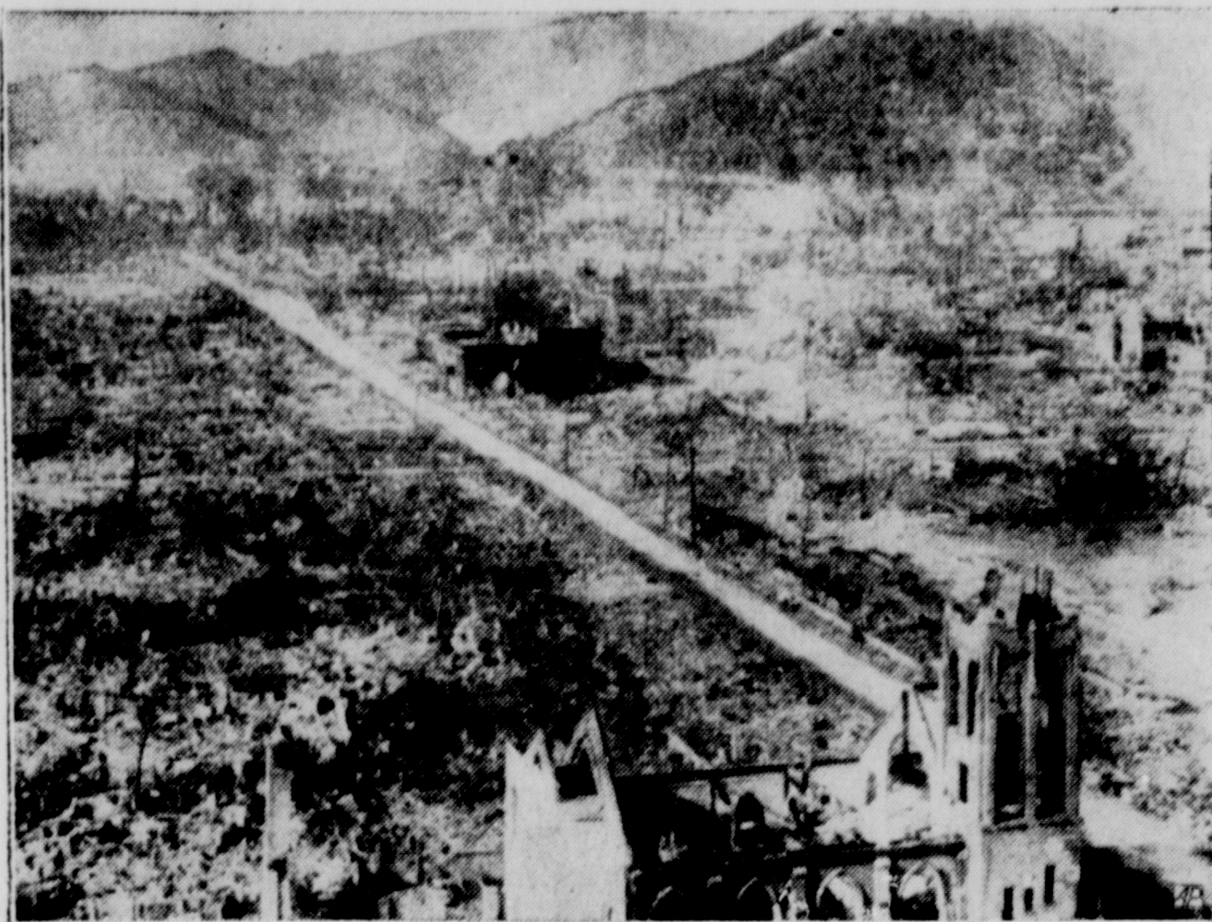

The car was demolished. Officials believe Hinsdale was driving to the Stockton farm, at Columbus, in Erie county, to attend a public sale.

Deliver Water To Stricken Community

Aveila, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP) —

The superintendent of the Aveila water company was busy Wednesday delivering cans of water to the 600 residents of this drought-stricken Washington county community.

Milk cans filled with water were deposited at each doorstep by Ernest A. Bonassi who began his rounds late Tuesday night.

The emergency arose when the north branch of Cross creek, which supplies the company's reservoir at Patterson Mills, ran dry.

Bonassi said even the filtration system was drained in an effort to maintain a water supply for the community.

PA. DELEGATION READY TO BACK MARTIN'S PLAN

Hershey, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—Republican Congressmen from Pennsylvania were reported ready today to be planning to back up with legislation Governor Martin's demand for a 20-per-cent cut in federal income taxes.

Rep. Richard Simpson, Huntingdon, spokesman for the 12 GOP Congressmen attending a conference with Martin and a member of the House Ways and Means committee, told newsmen:

"We all approved it. I will introduce a bill myself to carry out the tax reduction if none has already been put in."

Simpson said the measure he had in mind would reduce individual tax payments 20 per cent "down the line," effective January 1, 1946. He added the cut would leave more money in the pockets of consumers to buy refrigerators and similar goods.

Would End Draft

The GOP members of Congress also hold to the view, Simpson said, that the Selective Service Act should be allowed to lapse because "the consensus of opinion is that voluntary enlistments would obviate the necessity of continuation of the draft subject to unforeseen requirements for a larger army and navy."

The group met with Martin, State

Selecting Jury In Bathtub Slaying

Warren, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—

Selection of the jury was expected to be complete Wednesday in the trial of blond, attractive Mrs. Adaline McKinney, 25, on a charge of murder in the bathtub slaying of her husband.

Four jurors had been chosen when court recessed Tuesday—two women and two men. Twelve others of the panel were rejected.

McKinney, machinist and sandlot baseball player, was shot to death while taking a bath in his Youngsville home last July 16. At that time, Coroner Ed Lowrey reported the shooting climaxed two days of arguments between the couple.

Calm and composed, Mrs. McKinney, mother of two children, pleaded innocent in a clear voice before Judge Allison D. Wade. A crowd, mostly women, filled the courtroom on the opening day.

Prospective jurors were asked if they had any scruples against capital punishment by District Attorney Joseph H. Goldstein.

HELD FOR SLAYING

Washington, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Guthrie, 33, was lodged in county jail Wednesday following the death Tuesday of her husband from a shotgun wound which state police said was inflicted during an argument at their home in Coal Center.

MODERN ENOCH ARDEN ISSUES ON INCREASE

(By The Associated Press)
As haggard men are freed from the living "death" of Japanese prison camps, the number of "Enoch Arden" cases is increasing.

So far, at least four liberated prisoners have "returned to life" to find their wives, believing themselves widows, had remarried.

Other cases have been reported, but no names or definite information have been made public.

The four American girls who suddenly found themselves with two husbands apiece are handling their predicament in their own ways.

Varied Choices
Two chose the first husband. The two others have not yet announced their decision, although one said she would stand by the second husband "unless it means the loss of my son."

Mrs. Ann Birdwell-Marshall, pretty 19-year-old bride of Kansas City, filed suit for annulment of her second marriage yesterday, and said she would return to her first husband, Sgt. Gene D. Birdwell, if he will have her.

She married Birdwell's 33-year-old uncle, Jack Marshall, after the War Department reported Birdwell killed in action in Burma. He was rescued from the Yokohama prison camp 12 days after his wife's second marriage.

Second "Enoch Arden" bride is Mrs. Helen Goad of Portsmouth, Ohio. She said the annulment of her second marriage, to Ensign Robert A. MacDowell of Saugerties, N. Y., had been "taken care of."

She married MacDowell two months after Lt. Harold Goad, bomber pilot, was declared dead. Four months later, Goad was found in a prison camp on Rangoon.

2 Recent Cases
The two most recent cases are those of Mrs. Pearl Kelsner of Williamsport, Pa., and Mrs. Laurie Cales Bernstein, of Oakland, Calif. Both have one child each by their first husbands.

Mrs. Kelsner learned last night her first husband, Sgt. Earl Smith of Montgomery, Pa., had been heard in a shortwave broadcast from the Pacific. She married Pvt. Hoyt H. Kelsner last July 30, two months after Smith was reported dead.

Mrs. Kelsner, not yet officially notified that her first husband is alive, must annul her second marriage under Pennsylvania law when official word comes.

Separated from her first husband before he joined the army, she has indicated that her heart belongs to the second—"unless it means the loss of my son."

Mrs. Cales Bernstein married a wounded veteran of the European war July 9 only to discover yesterday that her first mate, Lt. James Cales, was safe and alive in a prison camp. The navy had reported him killed in action last May 7.

Her second husband, Lt. Ethan Bernstein, still receives hospital treatment for wounds received at St. Lo.

ARMY HINTS AT MANY RELEASES

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—The army hinted broadly Wednesday it expects to discharge within a year all enlisted men 34 and older as well as those who had 45 points up to May 12.

It dropped the hint in an announcement which said men in those categories no longer will be sent overseas.

The army's announcement last night was issued, it said, because the occupation of Japan is going on as scheduled. Except for about 1,000 men, it added, there will be no more overseas shipments for soldiers who:

1. Have 45 points or more, based on the May 12 (original) computation.
2. Are 37 years old.
3. Are 34, 35 or 36 and have a year of honorable service.

It was estimated there are about 665,000 men in this country covered by those three points.

The War Department said it had laid down the new policy in order to eliminate sending overseas men "who would have less than one year to serve" before becoming eligible for discharge.

The exceptions were made in the case of enlisted men in military government units now scheduled for early movement to the Pacific to help in the occupation, and enlisted men assigned to headquarters of the 7th and 18th Corps, also scheduled to sail soon.

However, in the case of those exceptions, none will be sent overseas providing he has 60 or more points, is 37 or is 34 or 36 inclusive, with one year of honorable service.

The Curious Clue

BY RUFUS HEED

Chapter 3

Seth first saw Dolores that evening after dinner in the patio. She was sitting alone at a table on the far side of the orchestra shell.

The dinner party was augmented by Ramon, who immediately waited off with Suzy, as Wallis and Potter began to dance, leaving Seth alone with Dolores.

"A good performance, that," Seth murmured, as faint handclapping came from one of the tables when Suzy and Ramon swung by.

"Strictly rotogravure, I should say," Dolores agreed briefly. "And you should know, you've been spending a lot of time watching them the last three weeks," Potter grinned at the girl as he and Wallis came off the floor and slipped into two chairs beside her. "I'm light on my feet, but I tire easily," Potter signalled a waiter. "And I'm hot. Swimming beats dancing, anyway—Now, when it comes to swimming—"

"But we're not coming to swimming," Wallis interrupted him. "There'll be no moonlight swimming tonight. This is a dancing party."

"Okay by me. There's a certain Jackson coming over here now who's going to insist on that, I guess," he smiled, as Ramon drew out a chair for Suzy and sat down beside her.

It seemed to Seth that everyone began at once to talk of the fashion show the following evening. Dolores was to be the bride in the final number and she and Wallis were soon deep in a discussion as to some detail of her "bridesmaid's" costumes. Suzy interrupted them long enough to tell Dolores that she could use her bedroom for dressing before and after the show.

Seth, not in the least interested in what they were talking about, watched them with growing curiosity. They were certainly a vivid assortment of individuals, and Suzy seemed to be the center of everything. He had the impression that Ramon had planned the Pirate dance especially for her. At any rate the Pirate's Song seemed to be Suzy's theme song as the orchestra played a few bars of the old tune when ever she came out on the dance floor. But after a while Seth grew restless. He felt he was being ignored.

"This must be pretty tiresome for you," Wallis said, as everyone left the table to a conga line. "They've all been working hard on this fashion show, but it's boring to an outsider."

"And that's exactly what I seem to be," Seth said irritably. "An outsider. I don't like it. It looks as if I had shipped to the last place in the Hit Parade and I came more than 1,000 miles to spend a week-end with the girl I'm going to marry."

"You and Suzy are not engaged!" Wallis exclaimed, her voice vibrating with a sudden interest.

Seth nodded. "We certainly are."

Now you can buy shoes without shoe stamps from HAINES, THE SHOE WIZARD

Starting at Once and Running Through September 29th

When the ceiling price was put on shoes, we had a tremendous quantity of shoes that we sold for $1.98 and $2.98 and, as we have kept to the letter of the ceiling prices, the same shoes, as to quality, are worth one to two dollars a pair more. If we had been privileged to advance the prices, not a pair of these shoes would be left on our shelf.

Now the OPA has consented to allow us to sell these shoes without stamps, so here's your great opportunity to buy shoes that are worth one and two dollars a pair more and, remember, without stamps.

First, come get the shoes. Also listen to me and buy your winter supply of rubbers. We have them now and when winter comes, you will find that you will not get them.

I can't understand her not saying anything to you about it. . . . "I can't either," Wallis answered slowly, a puzzled frown between her eyes. "That isn't like Suzy."

Another silence drifted between them, broken at length by Seth. "Wallis, don't say anything about our engagement to anyone just yet. Not even to Suzy. She'll tell you about it before we leave, but it is really up to her to do it—especially since she seems to have made a sort of secret of it—Heaven knows why—"

The girl nodded but before she could answer, the dancers had returned to the table and this time Dolores insisted that Seth dance with her. When they were on the far side of the dance floor, away from their table, Dolores said lightly.

"I suppose you're one of the boys from home who couldn't stay away."

"Something like that," Seth replied, guardedly.

"I hope you're not too late."

"I don't understand what you mean."

"You will, soon enough. All I'll say is, get Suzy out of Key West right away. The sooner she goes the better for her."

"Thanks for nothing," Seth muttered to himself, his annoyance increasing as the girl left him at the table a few minutes later. Just what was going on he did not know, but he decided that Dolores was right about one thing—the sooner Suzy got away from these people, the better it would be for her. He came to the point directly later that evening when he was saying goodnight to Suzy.

"Suzy," he said abruptly. "Why haven't you told these friends of yours here in Key West that you are going to marry me? Why aren't you wearing your ring? Have you changed your mind and do you want to marry someone else?"

His crisp, direct questions could not be evaded. For a long moment, there was an odd silence between them.

"Of course I'm going to marry you, Seth. Don't be so impatient. I'm only having a good time—"

"And I seem to be spoiling it by coming down unexpectedly for this week-end." He hesitated, then said

"I don't like it. It looks as if I had shipped to the last place in the Hit Parade and I came more than 1,000 miles to spend a week-end with the girl I'm going to marry."

HOLDOUTS JOIN POLLUTION DRIVE

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—One phase of the state's campaign to clear its streams of refuse and filth was ended today with agreement by the last four "hold-out" communities to go along with the drive.

"No one voiced any opposition to the principle of the thing," said William M. Rutter, deputy attorney general, after conferring with representatives from Waynesburg, Ridgway, Middleburg and Millville. We had very fine meetings."

He called them to the capitol after the sanitary water board reported they had failed to comply with the pure streams law's requirements that they submit reports by March 1, June 1 and Sept. 1.

Ridgway had not had a council meeting since June, and that's why they delayed action, Rutter said. Middleburg has no municipal sewer system and its authorities had work of the regular army, the National Guard, and the officers reserve corps in peacetime.

He added that the Pennsylvania National Guard "will have to be re-organized from scratch" after it is released from military service because all the enlistments have expired.

Urges Universal Military Training

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—Universal military training was advocated today by Governor Martin as a guard against "the law evader and the aggressor nation."

"If we do have universal military training," said Martin, "much of that training can be done through the medium of the National Guard, located in the various communities of the United States."

Martin, a former commander of the 28th Division said military training could be dovetailed into the work of the regular army, the National Guard, and the officers reserve corps in peacetime.

been doubtful, until the laws were explained, as to whether the borough came under the sanitary water board's jurisdiction, said Donald M. Johnson, solicitor for the borough.

Millville representatives said they had been worried about financing, but Rutter explained how the state will help in that respect, so now the council will choose an engineer and set forth creation of a municipal authority, said council President Paul K. Gorton.

Ridgway's representatives also agreed to get busy, Rutter said.

In the meantime, the sanitary water board checked the latest progress reports from the more than 300 communities required to file them, and got ready for the deluge of detailed plans that must be submitted to it by Dec. 31.

Urges Youths To Resume Schooling

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 (AP)—Local school districts can render a distinct public service by coaxing teen age boys and girls from war jobs back to the classrooms, said Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction.

"The youths in the 17-year-old group will be idle unless school activities are available for them which make the return to school seem to them a desirable objective," Haas declared yesterday. Haas declared

FEDERAL SETUP GIVEN LASHING BY COMPTROLLER

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren Wednesday described the present governmental setup as "a hodge-podge * * * of duplications, overlapping, inefficiencies and inconsistencies."

The official often referred to as "the watchdog of the Treasury" told Congress it "cannot be expected" to remedy the situation and asked instead that President Truman be given broad powers to clean house.

Testifying before the House Expenditures committee, which is considering proposals to streamline the government, Warren gave this picture:

1. The transportation field is divided up among 75 bureaus, divisions and agencies. The government's travel and freight bill last year was as much as it cost to run the whole federal establishment 30 years ago.

2. Public housing is financed by 15 agencies.

3. Labor relations are spread over eight departments and agencies.

Conflict Cited

4. A dozen bureaus and departments are involved in administration of government land.

5. There is "an obvious conflict" between the functions of various agencies concerning aid to the states in care of dependent children.

6. Two government corporations "are doing a thriving customs business, in addition to the Bureau of Customs."

7. There are at least 12 federal retirement systems, each with its own rules.

Warren said the instances cited "are merely a drop in the bucket of things which the President should be empowered to look into and remedy."

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE

Yokohama (AP)—Business is booming for 65-year-old Wakabayashi, who once had a rating roughly equal to "Whirlaway" among Yokohama rickshaw pilots.

This lean and leathery sage, burned the color of a cowhide suitcase by long years of pulling his black rubber-tired buggy through the streets under a hot sun, has more customers now than he can haul.

Age has also made him independent. He is like an old horse—always looking for the shortest road back to the stable.

I talked to Wakabayashi with the help of J. H. Sargent, former English teacher at the Japanese Naval academy, who had just been released after nearly four years in internment.

The rickshaw man wore the garb of his profession—a wide, cloth-covered straw hat that looked like an inverted bowl, black trousers and black split-toed shoes that made his feet look oddly like cloven hoofs.

20 Miles A Day

In his younger days, Wakabayashi, could do 15 to 20 miles a day on less than a gallon of rice but now he prefers middle distances "about five miles a day," he said. Wakabayashi plainly does not want to drag heavy bodied Americans around. Ask him if he speaks English and he replies at once and positively—"No!"

Ask him to quote you rates for an hour tour of the city and he sets a figure he hopes will scare you off. "Ten Yen," craftily replies this skinny war profiteer, who looks like the end man of the original four horsemen. He has teeth that could eat corn through a tennis racket.

In prewar times ten yen would have been almost two dollars and a half—and Wakabayashi thinks even a Rockefeller would pause before paying that.

He grins apologetically and says: "Solly—rata go up recently." He gives no explanation for the rise in price and it is hard to imagine what changes there has been in his overhead expenses.

Carries No Spare

His vehicle is in much better shape than Wakabayashi himself. It has shiny shafts and spokes and the tires are in good condition. He doesn't carry a spare.

Wakabayashi has been a rickshaw man since he was 30. "Before that," he says, "I was in business—but I failed." He has been trying to pull himself out of the red for 35 years.

There was considerable conjecture as to why he wore the split-

DRAFT DEPOT TO BE DISCIPLINARY BARRACKS SOON

New Cumberland, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)

—Workmen are getting busy on alterations that will transform the army's former reception center here into a place where bad soldiers can be made into good ones.

It's not going to take much work to change the buildings where more than 300,000 civilians started their career as soldiers, into the east-toed, fabric-topped shoes. Somebody surmised it was so he could pick up cigarette butts without stooping.

central branch of the U. S. disciplinary barracks.

About 1,500 GI's who transgressed military laws will inhabit the "D.B." expected to open in October.

Few Changes Needed

The block of standard, 63-man, two-story frame barracks where so many thousands of new selectees first slept on an army cot requires little change. A one-story concrete building with barred doors and windows already has been constructed for military prisoners who require strict confinement. Aside from that, about all it takes to effect the transformation is a wire fence and guard towers around the "D.B." area, adjoining the army's huge general supply depot, across the Susquehanna river from Harrisburg.

Lt. Col. J. D. Miley, commandant, is a West Pointer who helped handle military prisoners after the first World War, and came out of retirement at the start of the second to serve as executive officer of the army's Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, disciplinary barracks.

Backing him up is Lt. Col. A. E. Hessler, supervisor of prisoners, for 10 years an executive of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

"Medium" Cases

"Honorable restoration and rehabilitation" in addition to punishment, are the aims of this "medium-type" institution, Miley said. Its inmates will be those who neither are guilty of the most serious crimes, or so close to being reformed that they can be handled in rehabilitation.

Both Miley and Hessler emphasize that, through intelligent, fair but strict administration, and education, a sizeable proportion of the offenders may be returned to general military service and on honorable discharge, instead of serving their time and going out with a "kick"—the army term for a dishonorable discharge.
